

Carole

*A mood-ivational
speaker... to tickle
your funny bone!*

T

his book is a truthful account of segments of Carole Bertuzzi Luciani's life spanning from 1958 to today. She recalls situations along the way that have been challenging, thought provoking, often embarrassing and mostly humorous. Carole's memory for details is incredible; her openness is endearing; and her writing style is warm and friendly. Whether it be her historical (hysterical) accounts of her brush with bingo, baseball or the bane of everyday life, you will be both touched and tickled.

When you are done, you will want to find someone with whom you can share the book and ultimately your own stories.

What some of Carole's favourite people have to say about this book:

"Carole wrote a book? Well I certainly won't be reading it. I could only imagine what she wrote about me." IDA BERTUZZI, MOTHER

"A book? Who knew? She couldn't read, write or even talk when I first met her." LARRY BERTUZZI, BIG BROTHER

"It's hard to believe people will read this book ... my mother is so not funny." VINCE LUCIANI, THE FUNNY MIDDLE CHILD

"Yes, I know you will enjoy this book. Carole has been emulating me since grade five." KATHLEEN HOWES, SECOND OLDEST FRIEND (NOT IN AGE)

"Well unlike the others, I actually read the book ... and I LOVED it. And I know you're going to love it, too." NATALIE AGRO, GOD-DAUGHTER Carole enjoys living in Oakville, Ontario in a very crowded bungalow she shares with husband Joe, three children and, at the time of print, her eighty-nine-year-old mother, Ida. She credits all of them with both the stress and the humour in her life.

ISBN: 978-1-897412-87-9

WRITTEN BY CAROLE BERTUZZI LUCIANI | EDITED BY PAULA MCPARLAND HALL
PHOTOGRAPHS, TYPESETTING & LAYOUT BY LINDA JODOIN EMBERLEY | COVER DESIGN BY CHRIS DESFORGES